KEROSENE FROM WATER!

Portuguese In Trouble

Jose Maria de Silva e Sousa, aged 50, described as a commission agent, made his appearance, on remand, before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday when the case against him of obtaining money from one Lo Yuk-ching, merchant, was outlined by the prosecution and evidence was given by the complainant.

Detective Sub-Insp. J. O'Donovan prosecuted and Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ was for the defence.

The facts of the case, as outlined by Inspector O'Donovan, were that early in 1932, complainant was a shop-keeper in Amoy. Defendant was a commission agent in the sense that he sold wares for merchants and received a commission. Complainant was also the agent in Amoy of the Chung Wah Kerosene Oil Co. of Macao. At the end of February he went to Macao where the defendant was introduced to him. In the course of a conversation Sousa mentioned to complainant that he knew a man named Elliott who could produce kerosene from water. Complainant was interested and defendant suggested they should go to Canton. There Sousa took complainant to Shamen where he met Elliott in the latter's house. Complainant would say than an experiment, involving a lot of apparatus, was conducted by the two, at the end of which he, complainant, was satisfied that kerosene oil had actually been produced from water.

A CONTRACT

Defendant now suggested that they should go to Hong Kong and start this business. They came here about the first week in March and put up at the Tung Shan Hotel complainant paying the cost. Whilst there defendant produced a contract, the gist of which was that Elliott was to receive $500, defendant $300 and complainant $500 as manager. All three signed this contract. It was further agreed that the capital of the company was to be $10,000, which money was to be put up by complainant, and that the profits were to be divided fifty-fifty.

About March 13 Elliott asked for an advance of money and complainant gave him $500. Defendant asked for $125, this to be deducted from his salary, and the complainant also gave this. They stayed in Hong Kong for some time and then all three went to Amoy, where complainant was taken to the Naval Dockyard and purchased four large boilers, paying $3,000 for them. A site was selected and the boilers erected.

MORE CHEMICALS

Sousa now suggested to complainant that they should go to Hong Kong and buy more chemicals for the manufacture of the kerosene oil. In Hong Kong they again stayed at the Tung Shan Hotel and here complainant paid over various small sums to Sousa, totalling $180. Actually the money was alleged to have been advanced to defendant by a third man, a friend of the complainant's. Near the end of March they went back to Canton and stayed at the Tai Tung Hotel. Elliott got 20 large bottles of liquid and said the cost was $3,000. Elliott took complainant to the German firm from which they were supposed to have been bought. Complainant waited in an outside room and Elliott went into an inner room with the $3,000 which complainant had handed him. He came out a little later and said the money had been paid over. The bottles were taken away to the Customs House and Sousa told complainant arrangements had been made for them to be shipped to Amoy.

WENT TO AMOY

Near the end of April, 1932, the three men returned to Hong Kong and immediately went on to Amoy. There Elliott said he had received a telegram from his wife in Canton telling him she was very ill. He told complainant he would go to her and defendant went with him. Complainant waited a week in Amoy and then as they did not return he went to Elliott's house in Shamen. He found this closed and came to Hong Kong where he made a report to the police, and warrants were issued.

He never saw Elliott again, but in 1934 he saw the defendant in the Metropole Hotel. While he was getting the police, however, the man disappeared. On November 15 this year he saw the defendant in Queen's Road and followed him into the Wang Hing Building. The police were communicated with and detectives

DETECTIVE GIVES EVIDENCE

Kowloon Inquest Hearing

The inquest held into the circumstances surrounding the death of a man, Chan Sun, who died from rupture of the spleen on August 31, was continued before Mr. K. Keen who sat as Coroner, assisted by a jury at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

Wong Lap, stone cutter, a friend of the deceased, at previous hearings, made serious allegations against the police that he had been assaulted three times while he and deceased were detained in the Shamshupo Police Station on the day in question regarding the theft of a sewing machine, belonging to Chan Tam-lin, tailor.

Evidence was also given by a district watchman, Chan Fat, who said that deceased and Wong Lap were detained in the police station for enquiries. When in the detective's office, the two alleged suspects were assaulted and threatened by another detective, named Chan Chun.

At the hearing yesterday district watchman, Chan Fat, replying to Mr. John Whyatt, Assistant Attorney General, said that deceased was in a fit condition when in the station. He also stated that deceased and Wong Lap were each taken into the detective's room once, and he saw both beaten by a police officer whom he recognized as Kwok Kum (C152) and detective No. 454.

Mr. Whyatt: Does it strike you that Wong said he was not struck at all when he was in the detective room?—He was deceiving himself.

How many times did you see Wong being struck?—I don't exactly remember how many, at least two or three times.

DETECTIVE'S EVIDENCE

Chan Chun, called to give evidence, stated that four persons including deceased and Wong Lap were brought in the station on August 31 and witness had been instructed to take charge of the case.

In the course of investigations, witness said that deceased had related to him a story which indicated that deceased had been assaulted to give false evidence in the police station accusing Wong Lap of having stolen the sewing machine. The assault occurred at No. 390, Castle Peak Road. Witness informed district watchman No. 38 that the case was a "frame-up."

Witness continued that he obtained permission from Inspector Hynes to release the two alleged suspects. The parties then left the station and witness personally saw deceased leave in the direction of Yum Chow Street.

About twenty minutes later witness happened to go out of the station and he saw a person sitting on the pavement with his head leaning on a pillar. The person was the deceased. Witness learned that deceased was an opium addict. He summoned an ambulance.

The hearing was adjourned to Monday afternoon.

DEATH INQUEST

A Coroner's jury, comprising Messrs. F. E. de Sousa, J. C. Chalmers and A. D. Sequeira, returned a verdict of death from natural causes at the Central Magistracy yesterday at the conclusion of the inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of Yeung Kau, a prisoner serving a four-year sentence at Hong Kong Prison, Stanley. Mr. R. A. D. Forrest sat as Coroner.

Medical evidence was given by Dr. G. Ingram Sraw, who said he examined deceased first on February 23, 1935, when his condition was fair. On October 8, year he was admitted to the prison hospital and died there on November 12 at 5 a.m. The post-mortem showed death was due to pulmonary tuberculosis primarily. Mr. H. Barrett, Chief Warder at Hong Kong Prison, also gave evidence.

were posted. When defendant came out complainant asked him whether he remembered him and the answer was yes. Complainant also asked him where he now lived and he said Canton and also that if he (complainant), had some more capital, they could do some more business now. Defendant was then arrested.

Evidence supporting this opening was given by the complainant. Mr. Russ reserved his cross-examination and the case was adjourned till to-morrow.

POSSESSION OF PISTOL

Europeans In Court

Miss Barbara Lord, of the St. George's Riding School, Kowloon City, was summoned before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for the possession of a .38 calibre automatic pistol and one magazine without a licence from the Hon. Inspector General of Police.

Detective-Serjt. D. G. MacPherson said that on October 31 while he was conducting enquiries at the St. George's School, Miss Lord produced the pistol and asked him whether or not she required a licence. He instructed defendant to keep the pistol till the next day during which he would make enquiries. On the following day a summons was issued.

Mr. F. H. Loseby (for the defence): I think you know that there was a robbery in the Riding School.—A burglary.

Do you think it is proper for her to have a pistol?—I'm afraid I have no say whatsoever.

As the police were not pressing the case and that it was only a technical offence, Mr. Barnett registered a caution.

The same pistol was the subject of another summons against G. W. Cooper, residing at No. 94, Nathan Road, ground floor. He was discharged owing to insufficient evidence.

BAG SNATCHED IN POST OFFICE

Tang Wah, 25, unemployed, was sentenced to ten weeks' hard labour by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday on a charge of aiding and abetting in a larceny from the person of Chung Sun, widow, aged 50, of a purse containing $3 in Hong Kong money, $1.50 Canton currency and two gold bangles valued at $20.

It was stated that complainant was standing in the Post Office at Wanchai, when a small boy came up to her and snatched the purse from under her arm. She at once caught hold of him, but he passed the purse on to defendant, who ran out into Queen's Road East with it. Complainant chased him, and near the Grand Theatre he was arrested by a sanitary cooler named Lai Wah.

SUMMARY COURT JUDGMENT

Two judgments against the Central Meat Company, meat dealers, of No. 28 Wellington Street, ground floor, were delivered by the Pilsne Judge, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, at the Summary Court yesterday, when the Kwong Hing Loong Firm, pig dealers, of No. 17 Chung Ching Street, claimed $267.13 for goods sold and delivered and costs, and the Yick Lee Firm, beef dealers, of No. 9 Graham Street, claimed $974.83 being balance due for goods sold and delivered and costs.

LOITERER GAOLED

Wong Tak, 25, unemployed, was given two months' hard labour and ordered to be sent back to the country by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday when he admitted being on the third floor staircase of No. 12 Kennedy Terrace for an unlawful purpose on November 22. Mr. F. L. Wylie, manager of Messrs. Charles Morgan and Co., was the complainant.

As a result of a raid by the police on a house in Luk Wah Street on Tuesday two women named Wong Sam, 45, and So Cho, 38, were charged before Mr. K. Keen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday with having kept a common gaming house. They pleaded guilty and were each fined $50.

FAVOURITE LUNCHEON MENU

DUTCH POTATO SALAD

Fry 3 slices of bacon, cut fine; remove bacon pieces from pan, and in the grease brown 1 pound of frankfurters skinned and sliced; and green pepper, cut fine, and stalk celery, cut fine. Pour over this mixture 1 cup water in which has been mixed 2 tablespoons sugar and 2 tablespoons vinegar. Return cut bacon to mixture, and cook all together for 15 minutes. Stir into this 8 small potatoes which have been boiled with the jackets, peeled and cut in cubes. Simmer for 10 minutes. Salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot, garnished with parsley. Excellent for buffet suppers or Sunday evening meals, also.

SPICY TOMATO ASPIC

Simmer together for half an hour 1 quart can tomatoes 1 small onion, cut fine 1 bay leaf 8 whole cloves 1 teaspoon red pepper 1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon sugar. Strain and add 1 envelope gelatin, which has been soaked in 1 cup cold water. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon cider vinegar. Mold in individual molds and serve in lettuce cups with mayonnaise in which a little chopped onion, chopped parsley and chopped pimiento, amount to taste, has been mixed.

CREAM APPLE CRISP

Use a baking dish about 12 inches long by 7 inches wide, or one equivalent to that space. Fill 1 1/2 three quarters full with sliced apple wedges, as for pie. Over this pour 1 cup brown sugar 1 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1 cup water. Top with a crumbly mixture prepared by mixing with the fingers: 1 cup flour 1 cup white sugar, and 1 pound butter.

Bake in moderate oven (325 deg. F) for about 1 hour, or until apples are soft and crumbly mixture is browned. When cool, cut in large squares—about six servings come from the above-sized pan—and serve with a mound of whipped cream and cherry on each square.

In serving this luncheon she divided glass plates, the potatoes on the large section, the aspic on a small section and the cup on another small section. Bread and butter plates (individual) were used for the rolls and butter. The dessert stood ready on a serving table next to me, as was served after the main course plates had been passed to me and placed on the side table.

TRY THESE RECIPES

BLACK AND WHITE PUDDING

Make some vanilla-flavoured cream of rice and let it get cool. Mix in a couple of tablespoons of thick cream, put it into a pudding-basin rinsed with water, and turn out when cool. Melt three ounces of grated chocolate with a small spoonful of warm water and add of butter, and when it is cold pour it over the rice cream. If you want something richer, whip up some cream at the last minute, and pile it up on the top.

GUAVA FOOL

A very simple cream can be made by those who like new flavours by buying a glass of Guava Jelly and whisking it up with some cream or creamy custard to make a fool. Serve very cold in glasses.

CHOCOLATE WHIP

Whip up two egg-whites stiffly, and add to them, by degrees, a couple of tablespoons of fine castor sugar. Melt two bars of chocolate with two tablespoons of strong black coffee, and when it is cold mix it with the whites of egg and sugar. Serve in glasses as cold as possible with light biscuits as an accompaniment.

PIE TIME

There's a tang in the air which makes for healthy appetites. These tasty pies and patties will prove popular for a pack-up lunch or for supper.

Ham and veal pie is sure of a welcome from masculine taste. Make the pastry by rolling 4oz. lard in eight tablespoonfuls of milk, stir this into 1lb. flour, with a pinch of salt, and knead until a tight dough is formed.

Leave for five minutes, then roll out, cut into rounds, and shape into hollow pies; keep the pastry warm, or it will crack. Fill the pies with the meat mixture made as follows: Chop 1lb. lean veal and 4oz. ham into small pieces, add a sliced hard-boiled egg, and a little jelly stock (a little dissolved gelatine added to a 1 pint stock).

Damp the edges, and cover with a lid of pastry, pinching the edges well together. Make a slit in the top of the pastry, and fix inside this a funnel of parchment paper. Bake in a hot oven for half an hour.

CHEESE-POTATO

Another delightful supper dish. Boil 1lb. potatoes, cut each in half and put into a greased dish. Add 4oz. breadcrumbs, 4oz. grated cheese, two sliced tomatoes, salt and pepper.

Pour over 2oz. melted margarine, and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour.

MEAT PIE

Savoury meat pies are extra nice if covered with a potato crust. To make this, mix 2oz. margarine, 4oz. flour, pepper, and salt to taste, and the yolk of an egg with sufficient hot mashed potato to make a dough.

Roll out on a floured board to about 1/4 in. thick, then cover the meat and bake quickly.

EGG & TOMATO

These pies will have a short life. Line some deep patty tins with pastry crust, then fill with a mixture made in the following way. Mix together a cupful of cooked chopped bacon, three sliced tomatoes, and a sliced hard-boiled egg. Add seasoning to taste, with a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, then bind with a beaten egg. A grated onion may be added.

Half fill the patty tins, place a round of pastry on top to form a lid, brush over with beaten egg or milk, and bake for half an hour in a hot oven.

PASTRY CASES AND FILLINGS

Here is the recipe for the crust. Mix a pinch of salt with 1lb. flour, then rub in 4oz. butter or margarine, until the mixture resembles fine breadcrumbs.

Add 1/2 teaspoonful of baking powder, if plain flour is used, and sufficient cold water to form a very stiff paste. Roll out. Stamp into rounds and place in small patty cases.

POPULAR MACARON

Now for the fillings. A macaron-flavour is tempting, and is popular with most folk.

Whip the whites of two eggs stiffly, add three drops of almond essence, 1oz. ground almonds 2oz. caster sugar and two heaped teaspoonfuls of ground rice. Stir well. Smear the pastry cases with raspberry jam, then put a heaped teaspoonful of the mixture into each tartlet, covering the jam.

Bake for half an hour, or until cooked in a moderate oven.

APPLE MERINGUE

Apple meringue is delicious, and the fruit is good for the family. Mix 1lb. stewed and sweetened apples with 2oz. melted butter or margarine and the yolk of an egg. Fill the pastry cases with the mixture, and bake in a hot oven.

When the tarts are cooked, spread the egg white, mixed with a little fine sugar, over them and return to the oven to set.

ORANGE FILLING

Another change in flavour. Beat 1/2oz. butter and 1/2oz. caster sugar well together, add a beaten egg, 2oz. sponge cake crumbs, the grated rind of an orange, and a tablespoonful of the juice.

Blend thoroughly, put a heaped teaspoonful into each patty case, and bake for 25 minutes in a hot oven.

COCONUT FLAVOUR

A cheese cake with a short life. For the filling beat 2oz. butter and 2oz. caster sugar together, add a beaten egg and 1oz. rice flour and beat well. Lashy stir in 2oz. desiccated-coconut.

Put a little jam in each patty case, then half fill the cases with the mixture, bake for 15 minutes in a fairly hot oven—mark 6.

SQUASH RACKETS TITLE MATCH

London, Nov. 23. Amr. Bey, holder of the Open Squash Rackets Championship, beat James Dear to-day at the Royal Automobile Club in the first of the three matches for the title. The champion won by 10-8, 10-8, 4-0, 1-9 and 9-4.

The second match will be played on Monday, and the third, if necessary, at a neutral club.—Reuter.

history can furnish no more ruthless example of the triumph of might over right than the progress of this undeclared war against China. If this sort of thing "pays" Japan now she will naturally act upon a proven principle that it will "pay" her in the future. Ethical reasoning becomes very poor stuff to oppose to the law of force.

The only effective answer to this very primitive theme of life—the survival of the fittest—lies in an adequate power of resistance. "Asia for the Asiatics" is the Japanese version of what we have long called "the Yellow Peril." Perhaps a more concrete rendering of the "slogan" would be "Asia for the Japanese." There are plenty of very intelligent British residents in India and Malaya who have quite definite reasons for believing in the reality of the menace which lurks in these words.

This is not a subject to approach in any sensational vein. It is of too ominous portent for anything which might savour of the popular tendency to "thrills." The world may be on the eve of a change in the balance of "racial values" beyond anything as yet foreseen. It is a little staggering to recall that down to less than three-quarters of a century ago Japan was a land of mystery and severe self-containment.

MAINTENANCE OF LAW IN NANKING

Shanghai, Nov. 24. Nanking is still the Chinese capital and the government withdrawal is actuated by a determination to continue resistance, declared General Chang Chun, chief secretary of the National Military Council, at a tea reception attended by prominent foreign residents, press representatives and also the Mayor of Nanking, Mr. Ma Chao-chun.

General Chang said that the greatest attention was being paid to the maintenance of law and order in the city.

Civil affairs are under the control of Mr. Ma Chao-chun, and order is being maintained by General Chang Chun. The authorities are also affording the greatest protection to foreign life and property, and will use every means possible to avert danger in either respect.—Reuter.

POSITIONS UNCHANGED

Peiping, Nov. 23. The military situation in North China has remained unchanged for fully one week. Great regrouping activities seem to be in progress on the Japanese front, which extends 300 km from Taiho to Chanchow on the Peiping-Hankow Railway.

It is stated that the Japanese intend to make a flank movement that would leave Shantung untouched. Numerous bands of Chinese volunteers are making the rear lines of the Japanese unsafe, and many have already been eradicated, but about 12 bands are still said to be behind the Peiping-Tientsin line.—Pennsylvania News Service.

THE FAR EAST

HOW THE NAVAL SITUATION MAY BE AFFECTED

BY SIR HERBERT RUSSELL
(In the "United Services Review")

I do not profess to any definite perception of "what Japan wants" as the issue of her tremendous onslaught upon China. Probably a pretty accurate answer would be "as much as she can get," but this is quite indefinite. That she has plunged into a war of conquest and annexation—never mind by what more agreeable-sounding name she may term the latter—seems perfectly clear. As all students of Japanese military development and of Japan's strategic position have always foreseen would be the case, she is virtually sweeping all before her on the Asiatic mainland.

If the League of Nations, or any Power or Powers independent of the League, disapproves and says so in the most arbitrary terms, the Japanese will simply reply: "Will you honourably come and turn us out?" Russia might attempt this to a limited degree in the North; I cannot imagine any other Power or probable combination of Powers making the effort anywhere else. We realize in a vague sort of way that there must be a finite line to this Japanese invasion, but I have yet to meet anybody who would try to define it. We are told that the Chinese masses will "absorb" the Japanese invaders, but I really do not know on what such an argument rests, since China has never been invaded in such a manner nor on such a scale before. The multitudes of India did not "absorb" the comparative handful of white troops who conquered their country.

JAPAN OF THE FUTURE Japan is doing in China what Germany hoped to do in Europe. Germany aroused a world in arms against her and was beaten. We live in a different world to-day in which conferences, treaties, representations, protests, and the rest of the vocal and literary armouries are employed as a substitute for mobilization. Japan employs these armouries herself and knows both the value and the futility of them—especially the futility. Neither the spoken word nor the written word, which being delivered finishes the process of intervention, will have the least effect upon Japan.

She will go just as far as she can and get as much as she can. How far and how much that may be we have yet to see. But one thing does seem disquietingly certain: when she has gone to her limits and recovered from the effort she will be very much more formidable as a Power than she is to-day. Indeed, she will literally be the dominant Pacific Power and the question must inevitably arise as to how such a state of supremacy will be regarded by other great nations having paramount interests in the Far East.

UNDECLARED WAR It might be easier to conceive some sort of a comprehending answer to this question were it possible to foresee how this dominance—or capacity to dominate, which comes to much the same thing—is likely to govern Japan's future policy. The manner in which she is achieving the position that we must visualize does not inspire much confidence as to the prospect of a peaceful régime. The world's

JAPAN AGAINST CHINA

War Councillor Urges "Thorough Chastisement"

Tokyo, Nov. 24. Advocating a "stern and unrelenting attitude" towards the Soviet Government, Admiral Suetsugu, Supreme War Councillor urged for a vigorous extension of the present campaign in China in an interview with the Premier, Prince Konohe, to-day.

Admiral Suetsugu urged the Premier "thoroughly to chastise" the Chinese troops, and not to stop the drives of the Japanese troops with the occupation of Nanking. The Admiral said Japan should avoid the lukewarm steps hitherto taken in settling incidents in China. Japan should carry the hostilities far deeper in North China and impress upon the country the significance of the costly sacrifices made by the Japanese.

Meanwhile coming conferences between members of the Cabinet and military and navy authorities are expected to discuss the question of the declaration of war against China.—Reuter.

Major Battle In Taihu Lake Area Imminent

Shanghai, Nov. 24. A major battle is looming in the Taihu Lake area as the Chinese are reported to have assembled a great army of nearly half a million in order to stem the Japanese advance around this huge sheet of water which separates two avenues of approach to Nanking. The Chinese claim that the Japanese troops are meeting with strong resistance in their drive to Wusih, and state that despite a sanguinary battle of more than 48 hours the Chinese are still holding the positions five miles east of Wusih. The defence line held by the Chinese runs in a curve between Kiangyin and Haiyen. Chinese sources admit that the situation in the neighbourhood of Chapoo and Pingwu, in eastern Chekiang is critical, but declare that Chinese reinforcements are rushing to the scene confident that they will be able to prevent disaster.—Reuter.

ARTISTS AND MODELS

With Jack Benny heading a cast of screen and radio stars, which includes Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Richard Arlen, Ben Blue, Judy Canova, the Yacht Club Boys, Louis Armstrong's Swing Orchestra, and England's most famous beautiful model, Sandra Storme, laugh fans have ample guarantee that they can expect more good, solid chuckles than they'll know what to do with! But just to make sure, Paramount has added, to the already "top" cast, specialty acts and routines by such grand stars as Martha Raye, Andre Kostelanetz and his Orchestra, Judy, Anne and Zeke, of radio fame; glorious-voiced Connie Boswell; "The Walter Waltzers," Mary Shepherd, and Gloria Wheeden; and the six greatest living American artists—Peter Arno, creator of "The Whoops Sisters"; McClelland Barclay, the "Fisher Body Girl" illustrator; Arthur William Brown; Rube Goldberg; John La Gatta and Russell Patterson.

The story of "Artists and Models" is just as scintillating as its stellar cast. Jack Benny, owner of the craziest advertising agency in the world, tries to "sell" beautiful Ida Lupino, a model, to Richard Allen, for use in Dick's advertising campaign. But Dick has promised the job to his niece, Gail Patrick, who wants the job because she has learned that whoever poses for Dick's campaign will be elected Queen of the Artists and Models Ball, of which Jack is chairman.

"Artists and Models" has its showing at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

NOBODY'S BABY

Although it is filled with catchy music, beautiful dancing, and has a fine cast, "Nobody's Baby," the Hal Roach-M-G-M comedy feature, which opened yesterday at the Majestic Theatre, is most important because it introduces a new and great team in Patsy Kelly and Lydia Roberti.

The new picture, combining the directing ability of Gus Meins with the comedy talents of Patsy Kelly and Lydia Roberti, is a well-turned-out production. Its lavish sets and screamingly hilarious situations make it a sure-fire entertainment bet.

Lynne Overman and Robert Armstrong have the most appropriate roles of their careers and play them with the right attitude and emphasis. Don Alvarado ably takes the part of Rosina's conceited dancing partner-husband.

"BARKLESS" DOGS

Two "barkless" dogs, newly arrived from England, are attracting great interest in canine circles in New York.

They are of the Basenji breed—natives of the Belgian Congo and introduced into England by an Englishwoman, Mrs. Olivia Burn, some 10 months ago.

They can make no other noise than a kind of low growl and are said to be so quiet-moving that native hunters in Africa tie rattles to them to follow them through the tall grass.

ENGLISH MUSIC IN THE ABBEY

WORKS OF LIVING COMPOSERS

The Festival Evensong sung at Westminster Abbey by the Special Choir recently celebrated the reopening of the building. The music—all by living English composers—includes a service by Herbert Howells and anthems by Sir Edward Elgar, William H. Harris, Henry Ley and George Dyson.

Such a selection, representative enough of contemporary Church music, might be held by some to indicate the march of progress. Yet it is at least possible that current mannerisms—such as flattened sevenths, a virtuous avoidance of chromaticism, and so-called "modal" harmony—will be regarded with as much disdain in 50 years' time as Victorian idioms are to-day.

As for melody, that is no recent gift. Dr. Harris's unison setting of "Tarry no longer" has a broad-shouldered, dignified and easily singable tune; but Sir John Stainer also wrote several tunes which merit much the same description.

Where English church music remains constant is in its submissive treatment of Bible texts. The words come first; the music follows from point to point, commenting and expressing, but not obeying laws of purely musical form. Dr. Dyson in his setting of the 150th Psalm, performed at the Coronation, has a usable mould ready to hand in the antiphonal structure of the text, and adopts it with an epigrammatic directness; but Sir Edward Elgar's setting of St. Paul's hymn to charity, "The singing, directed by Dr. Bullock, was the best this choir has given us for a long time. It was keen and vigorous and well shaped, without any loose ends, and at the same time without fussiness or over-anxious point-making. The organ accompaniments were all that such things should be—discreet for the most part, but firmly rhythmic, and effectively building up the climaxes.

MOSLEM EMPIRE?

Japanese Plotting

Reports to the effect that a Moslem Empire will be organized by General Ma Liang, who is alleged to have gone to Tientsin to negotiate with the Japanese authorities there, were emphatically denied by Mr. Tao Chien-hwa, representative of General Ma in Shanghai, and further reports to the effect that General Shen Shih-tsai and General Ma Chung-yin, young Moslem leader, are now engaged in fierce fighting in Sinkiang, were also discredited.

General Ma, who is in Tsinan, has been active in organizing relief work at the Shantung front, according to Mr. Tao.

As for the establishment of a Moslem Empire, Mr. Tao gives it as his opinion that it is part of the Japanese plan to build up a number of puppet states in China, including the "Manchukuo," "Monchukuo," "Hwapeikuo," and the "Hulinkuo."

RUBICON INN

Japanese Threaten Destruction

After braving the dangers of death from bombing and other causes for the past several months, Madame Helen Piper, owner of the popular Rubicon Inn in Shanghai, has at last been forced to evacuate. Since the outbreak of hostilities in the areas around that city, Madame Piper has remained at her Inn, turning the premises into a temporary hospital for wounded Chinese troops and civilians, and a place of shelter for fleeing refugees.

On the three occasions when Japanese planes bombed the defenceless Rubicon Village and areas adjacent to it, she rendered every possible assistance to the terror-stricken villagers and those who fell victims to the ruthless bombings, and with the Chinese withdrawal from Chapel, her Inn served as a temporary resting place for the thousands of tired Chinese soldiers who passed that way.

CAUTIONED

Madame Piper, who is an American citizen, was advised on several occasions by the American consular officials to move into the safety of the International Settlement, but the courageous woman elected to remain, and with the aid of a handful of loyal Chinese servants has, until recently, carried on in the face of staggering odds.

A detachment of Japanese troops have since called at the Inn, however, and threatened to destroy her property unless she withdrew. Menaced at the point of bayonets and pistols, there was nothing else for Mrs. Piper to do but comply with their demands.

REVISITS INN

Not long after her evacuation, Mrs. Piper had occasion to visit the Inn once more. Her motive was prompted by concern over her pets whom she was forced to leave behind at the time she vacated the premises.

Accompanied by a newspaper reporter, Mrs. Piper made the trip by car, and great was her astonishment at finding the Inn empty. She had expected to find it occupied by Japanese troops. However, in conducting a tour of the premises, she came upon a wounded Chinese soldier whose blood were missing, and who, moreover, was rapidly bleeding to death. She placed him in her car after rendering what first aid she could, and collecting her pets, made the journey back to town.

The soldier's life was saved as a consequence of her timely action, and Madame Piper's bravery and loyalty to the Chinese cause has won praise in both foreign and Chinese circles in Shanghai.

PRIVATE TALKS AT BRUSSELS

Chinese Delegation Awaiting Nanking's Instructions

Brussels, Nov. 23. Lord Cranborne, Mr. Norman Davis and Dr. Wellington Koo reviewed the Sino-Japanese situation at a private meeting to-day. The Chinese delegates have not yet received instructions from Nanking, but it is hoped they will be received before the meeting to-morrow.

The British and American delegates examined the Conference declaration with M. Paul Spaak of Belgium. No important amendment has been received from any delegation. — Reuter.

CHEN KUNG-PO ARRIVES IN BRUSSELS

Brussels, Nov. 23. Mr. Chen Kung-po arrived from Rome to-day and in a statement to the press said he had interviewed Count Ciano and Signor Mussolini. He emphasised that the Italian statement had assured him that Italy's signing of the anti-Comintern Pact had nothing to do with the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Mr. Chen Kung-po said the business of the Brussels conference was to find a rapid and satisfactory solution in conformity with the Nine-Power Treaty. The object of his mission was to inform the Chinese Embassies and Legations of internal conditions and policies of China since the beginning of the hostilities.

Mr. Chen Kung-po is going Paris from Brussels. — Reuter.

MR. MACDONALD IN LONDON

London, Nov. 23. Mr. Malcolm Macdonald, the Dominions Secretary, returned to London from Brussels this evening in order to attend to-morrow's Cabinet meeting and to make arrangements for the funeral of his father, whose body conveyed in a British warship is due to reach this country on Thursday. A service in Westminster Abbey will be held on Friday. — British Wireless.

BRUSSELS CONFERENCE

Brussels, Nov. 23. American delegation circles today emphatically deny the statements made that the failure of the Far Eastern Conference was due to the attitude of the American delegation. It is stressed that although the United States had signified its willingness to attend the Conference with the view of helping to attain a peaceful settlement of the Far Eastern conflict, the United States Government had thought it neither necessary nor desirable that the U. S. delegation should play any leading role in the negotiations. It is, moreover, recalled that Britain took the initiative of convoking the Conference and that the United States merely agreed to accept an invitation to participate.

It is, however, stated that the U. S. and British delegations late to-night once more discussed the possibilities under which the United States and Britain might yet mediate between the parties in the Far Eastern crisis. It is pointed out that if any attempt of that nature is made by the two Governments, the present situation in the war zone would have to be taken into consideration.

The two powers, it is stated, would therefore be prepared to discuss with Japan the creation of an Independent State from the Five Northern Provinces occupied by Japan, if a guarantee against further Japanese "penetration" into these provinces is given, to avoid the provinces having the same fate as "Manchukuo."

British circles particularly, it is stated, are of the opinion that the creation of such a state would lead to a permanent appeasement of the Far East.

The Chinese delegation declares the proposal to be "completely unacceptable," and adds that China would never agree to an Anglo-American mediation if this is to become basis of the negotiations. — Transocean News Service.

SERIOUS FLOODS IN JAMACIA

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 23. Nineteen persons have been drowned by serious floods which are raging in parts of the island, while many houses have been washed away and sugar plantations damaged. — Reuter.

GRAVE FRENCH PLOT UNEARTHED

Secret Organisation Of "Cagoullards" Planned Coup d'etat

Paris, Nov. 23. A plan for a concerted attack on the Chamber of Deputies is claimed to have been found in a Paris office by the Police among the complete archives dealing with the Cagoullards.

No date for the attack was given, but there was also a detailed plan of M. Leon Blum's residence.

Meanwhile the greatest reticence is being observed regarding the Cabinet consideration of the Cagoullards activities. It is merely announced that the Minister for the Interior gave an account of the police enquiries.

The official communique adds that the organisation is designed for a civil war and the replacement of the Republican form by a Dictatorship which would precede the restoration of the monarchy.

ARREST OF MINISTERS

Detailed plans have been disclosed including fascistic signatures of certain Ministers and a list of Ministers and Members of Parliament to be arrested at a given signal.

The organisation is stated to comprise a General Staff, first, second and third bureaux and a medical service. The effective members of the organisation would be separated into "divisions, brigades, regiments, battalions" and so on.

The police also discovered papers showing means of seizing the depots and Board canal traffic and road traffic outside of Paris, with the intention of transforming them into offensive equipment, and a plan for seizing arms at Mont Valerian (a fort on the outskirts of Paris).

These preparations have come to naught thanks to the vigilance of the Government which has the confidence of the country. Republican institutions have nothing to fear from the operations of these dissidents' adds the communique.

COMPLETE PLANS

The communique was issued by the Ministry for the Interior.

The communique revealed that the dissidents' plan was minutely prepared and searches revealed apparatus for making false identity papers, instructions for transport of arms, and information regarding the state's forces in Paris and its environs, with the names of officers commanding units. There was also information regarding various officers and the equipment of certain regiments, with blank army forms stolen from the military offices.

There was among the papers a plan of the sewers, with routes leading from the Chamber of Deputies, and a plan of the offices of the Left Wing newspapers and the plans of the homes of the Socialist deputies. — Reuter.

MARQUESS OF DUFFERIN

To Tour East Africa

London, Nov. 23. It is announced that the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, will shortly undertake a tour of British possessions in East Africa in the course of which he will visit the Sudan, British Somaliland, Aden, Kenya and Tanganyika. — Transocean News Service.

NEW ANGLO-SIAMESE TREATY SIGNED

Bangkok, Nov. 23. The new Anglo-Siamese treaty of friendship was signed to-day. This takes the place of the treaty which expired on November 5. Siam denounced all foreign treaties following the abdication of King Prajadipok of Siam. — Reuter.

NATIONAL DEFENCE OF YUGO-SLAVIA

Belgrade, Nov. 23. Expenses for the national defence of Yugoslavia are estimated at 2.77 milliard dinars in the 1938-39 budget showing an increase of 313 million dinars as compared with the previous year. — Transocean News Service.

HALIFAX SEES THE KING

Reporting To Cabinet Regarding German Visit

London, Nov. 23. Lord Halifax, Lord President of the Council, had half an hour's audience with the King at Buckingham Palace this morning after the meeting of the Privy Council. Lord Halifax will report to his colleagues on his recent German visit at to-morrow morning's meeting of the Cabinet, and the Prime Minister promised the Opposition leader in Commons to-day to make a statement at question time to-morrow. This morning, the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden called on the Prime Minister at Downing Street, and was with him over an hour. — British Wireless.

London, Nov. 23. Mr. Clement Attlee, Leader of the Opposition, questioned the Premier in the House of Commons respecting the visiting of Lord Halifax to Germany.

The Premier asked Mr. Attlee to repeat the question to-morrow when he hoped to make a statement. — Reuter.

TERRITORIALS COME INTO LINE

London, Nov. 24. The British Territorial Army will be made a supplementary part of the British defence forces, declared the Secretary for War, Mr. Hore-Belisha, in the House of Commons. Pensions of officers in the Territorial Army will be similar to that of officers of the regular army and Territorial officers will in future have to attend various war academies which were formerly closed to them. This statement shows that the territorial army is now considered an integral part of the British forces, and Territorial troops regular soldiers. — Transocean News Service.

UNBEATABLE CHINA

Dean Prophesies Victory

"Japan is throwing the whole of her weight against China and she will never break her," said the Dean of Canterbury, speaking at a pro-China demonstration at Queen's Hall, London, recently.

There was a power of recovery in China which at length would make her victorious, the Dean continued. Any nation should count it a privilege to be able to stand side by side with China in this, the greatest moment of her history.

Referring to the Japanese incident in which he nearly lost his life five years ago when travelling through China, the Dean said that the Japanese statement then that she was working for order in China was "a most monstrous and a most damnable lie."

Madame Chiang Kai Shek sent a telegram expressing the hope that the outcome of the meeting would be "the vindication of justice in international affairs." — Bulletin.

DANCE DISPLAY A SUCCESS

Miss Violet Capell's Annual Show

The annual dancing display by pupils of Miss Violet Capell, which was held in the King's Theatre last evening, was an outstanding success. Though there were, of course, items more outstanding than others, all the nineteen were good and showed a high standard of efficiency.

Some of the costumes worn were strikingly original and many novel dances were presented.

The older girls showed clear evidence of the thorough training they had received from Miss Capell and the "youngsters" were no less deserving of very high compliments. Lady Northcote headed a gathering which included a number of distinguished people.

HEALTH RETURNS

Two cases of diphtheria and one of cerebro-spinal fever were reported for the 24 hours ended on Tuesday.

BANISHEE TRIES SHOP-LIFTING

The smartness of a departmental manager of the Sun Company resulted in the appearance before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday of Lam Chuen, 28, unemployed, would-be shop-lifter and returned banishee. It was stated that defendant had gone to one of the counters and on the pretence of buying something had picked up a woollen jersey and slipped it under his clothing. The floor manager saw him and had him arrested. Defendant had been banished for ten years in April 1933.

Sentence of one month and six months' hard labour concurrently was passed.

UNEMPLOYED ALIENS CAUTIONED

Gustav Otto Teppers, unemployed, and his wife, Eugenia Teppers, appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday charged with entering the Colony without a valid passport on or about November 22.

Sergeant Russell of the Passport Office said defendants arrived on the s.s. Conte Rosso, en route for Shanghai. They disembarked here despite the fact that the boat was going on to Shanghai. Teppers was unemployed and had no money with which to pay his passage. The authorities were going to hold the shipping company responsible, as they should not have sold them the tickets. He asked that defendants be sent away with a caution.

His Worship granted the application.

MOTHER BURNS CHILD'S MOUTH

Gaoled For Cruelty

A story of extreme cruelty by a mother towards her own child was told by Mr. H. W. Fraser of the Secretariat of Chinese Affairs at the Central Magistracy yesterday, when, before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest, he prosecuted Chu Sze, 22-year old married woman, with ill-treating her four-year old daughter.

According to Mr. Fraser, he received certain information on Monday, as a result of which he visited No. 370 Hennessy Road, first floor. There he saw the child. She had been burnt all round the upper part of the mouth and was weeping bitterly from pain. Blood and water were coming from her mouth. He questioned defendant and she admitted that she had placed a burning tin round the child's mouth. This, the woman said, was the custom in her village to stop a child from crying.

In answer to His Worship Mr. Fraser said the woman's husband was a baker in Annam and periodically sent her money for maintenance. She herself had been in Hong Kong for about a year. He was instructed, if the woman was convicted, to ask for a prison term. The child would go before the S.C.A.

His Worship (to defendant): "Whether or not it is the custom in your native village you can't do that sort of thing in Hong Kong. You, as a mother, should feel more tenderness in your heart to any child, let alone your own. You will go to prison for four months with hard labour."

DAY OF PRAYER AND GIFTS

(To The Editor, "The Hong Kong Daily Press.")

Sir, Will you kindly allow me the courtesy of your columns to bring before the notice of all members of the Church of England who are in the parish of St. Andrew's Church in Kowloon, and all those in the Colony who have in any way been connected with the Church in the past, the Day of Prayer and Gifts which we are having here on Saturday?

This Day of Prayer and Gifts will take the place of the Fete and Bazaar which has been our custom to organise annually in the past, and which so many of our well-wishers all over the Colony come to patronize.

Yours etc.,

THE SHANGHAI PUZZLE

The Japanese occupation of the Shanghai area is certainly causing as complicated and confusing a picture as might be imagined, and the authorities of the International Settlement as well as the French Concession must be having a colossal headache trying to reconcile General Matsui's demands to their own rights and the established functions of the Chinese Government within the territory.

According to the latest information, the Settlement authorities appear to have complied with some of the more reasonable demands, which were comparatively easy to meet, and it must be said that in the circumstances they have only acted wisely and discreetly. In fact, it was to be noticed that the Chinese Government and certain Chinese bodies had in a few matters, of their own volition, surrendered their rights in order not to cause undue embarrassment to the foreign councils. This is proof, indeed, of Chinese sincerity and consideration, for in spite of the failure of foreign governments to grant her the aid expected of them, China, instead of showing any stubbornness as a result of her disappointment, is still willing at her own further expense to offer so much genuine co-operation.

There remain, however, many vital issues the successful bridging of which can only come either with virtual renunciation by foreign nationals of rights and interests gained through years of toil and effort, or retrocession in some degree of Japanese military and political policy. The latter course is not likely to materialise, at least as seen in the light of present events.

The Japanese desire to exercise jurisdiction in the courts of justice hitherto controlled by Chinese, their aim of reorganising the Settlement police force, their continued occupation of Hongkew, parts of Hungjiao and other Settlement or extra-Settlement areas, and the practice, now fast becoming a custom, of regarding Japanese interests as a foremost consideration, all tend to create unusual difficulty.

This is not all. The prospect of their asserting complete governmental and sovereign authority, in one guise or another, after entry into Nanking, is sufficiently forbidding to occasion some early misgiving at this stage. The Powers had better now make up their minds as to the course they will adopt, as such a grave state of affairs is obviously beyond the scope of the Settlement authorities.

And even if the Japanese leave things very much as they are in both the Settlement and the French Concession, there are many matters which will require fair adjustment. What is to prevent the Japanese from invalidating the Maritime Customs by smuggling goods into the country through the many points near Shanghai that are now in their hands? They adopted those tactics in North China, and met with no little success. Similar operations in the Yangtze basin will strangle Shanghai.

TRADE ROUTES TO PEACE

The fact that Britain has advanced some way in her new programme of heavy rearmament has made Germany and Italy more inclined to seek an understanding with her. For the first time for several years the initiative has partially passed to the democratic countries, as an immediate result of the Nyon conference on "Mediterranean piracy."

Such was the situation when Mr. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Minister, addressed the Assembly of the League of Nations recently. What line would his country adopt, deeply concerned as it is in European affairs, yet more detached from them than any other European power?

Mr. Eden avoided the "deep and dangerous waters" of discrediting non-intervention, though he admitted it was a "leaky dam." But he took the opportunity of making certain definite proposals which were evidently intended for the serious consideration of Germany and Italy. First, Germany demands colonies. Mr. Eden did not offer colonies. In the present state of opinion throughout the British Empire he could not have done so. But he did offer to satisfy those needs which have been the basis of the demand for colonies, namely the removal as far as possible of preferences which tend to deny access to raw materials.

Secondly, Mr. Eden offered negotiation for the reduction of armaments. Britain is rearming. But she is willing that her armaments should pave the way towards disarmament.

Britain, it has to be remembered, faces in two directions. She is half in Europe, and half out of it. As a European, she cannot be indifferent to the conflicts between autocracy and democracy or to neighbourly jealousies and the heaping up of armaments.

As head of the British Empire, concerned with trade and intercourse with all the world, she is bound to think in world terms, just as the United States is bound to do. Mr. Cordell Hull has recently said of his own country: "We must make our contribution toward the realization of conditions upon which peace everywhere can be maintained." Economic accord is the necessary preliminary to world peace, and one of the most feasible first steps towards rectifying the world's economy would be to put right the economic relations between the United States and Britain. Mr. Eden not merely recognizes that fact, but thinks it so important as to give it a prominent place in a pronouncement made at Geneva primarily concerned with the issues of war and peace.

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Membership Still Increasing By Leaps And Bounds

NEXT SUNDAY'S MEETING

As we recorded in these columns in our issue for November 4th last, the individual full membership of the Hong Kong Rifle Association stood at 537 on the preceding day. Exactly three weeks later, i.e. yesterday, we are informed that this class of membership has grown to no less than 642, an increase of 105 members in 21 days, or an average of exactly 5 per diem. This remarkable growth is largely due to the great increase and enthusiasm which has been shown by all ranks of the 1st Bn. The Middlesex Regiment, the members of which unit have joined, and are still joining, in such numbers as could not have been foreseen a few weeks ago.

There is no doubt in the mind of any member of the Council of this Association that rifle-shooting during the last two-and-a-half years on the "free-and-easy" lines which the National Rifle Association at home does so much to encourage, has "caught on" as regards the local Rifle Association, and that the success of the last two Annual Prize Meetings, coupled with the free issue of the "1914" rifle, and last but not least, the amenities which are provided for the convenience and comfort of members in their own Clubhouse on the Army Ranges at Kowloon City, have all combined to cause those who are really keen on rifle-shooting as a form of recreation, to take full advantage of the opportunities which now exist out here to enjoy this form of sport.

FIRST SUNDAY SHOOT

Arrangements are now practically complete as regards the first Sunday Shoot, which, by permission of the military authorities, is taking place on the morning of Sunday next on the Army Ranges at Kowloon City. Although complete returns have not yet been received from the affiliated units and clubs, there is reason to believe that a very large attendance will be seen, although it is unfortunate that members of the H.K.V.D.C. will be in Camp on that day, and will therefore be unable to be present. In connection with this meeting a special Prize List has been published for the events which take place that morning, and we note that in the ordinary Spoon Shoot nearly 20 extra awards are being made, apart from the ordinary Silver Spoons, while as regards revolver shooting, special Silver Spoons are being given to members of the winning team. The clay-bird range is due for completion in a day or so, and the first competition to be held on it, on Sunday next, has no less than 10 special awards in its Prize List.

At the lunch which will follow the conclusion of the programme of shooting, several distinguished guests have been invited to be present, and the shoot will conclude with the distribution of prizes by Mrs. R. D. Walker, wife of the President of the Association.

Members of the Association will be glad to learn that the new edition of the Year-Book is fast approaching its final form, and that there is no doubt that the new issue will contain almost double the number of pages which appear in the first issue. Furthermore, the number of illustrations have been greatly increased, while special sections are appearing for the first time, devoted to Miniature Rifle Shooting and Clay-bird Shooting, while a special chapter on "Bisley" and the Imperial Meeting, is copiously illustrated with photographs of Bisley Camp, the adjoining ranges, and photographs taken at the Imperial Meeting itself.

The normal mid-week Spoon and Practice Shoot, which was held, as usual on the Army Ranges at Kowloon City yesterday afternoon, was specially marked by two features, one being the abnormal drop in temperature from that experienced a week ago, while the other was the unexpected increase in the number of competitors of whom nearly 80 took part in the shoot. Weather conditions were somewhat difficult, and many members found that the strong and constantly varying wind demanded all their skill in combating it. The light on the whole was good, and as the leading scores given below demonstrate, the conditions obtaining were just those which put the more experienced shot ahead of those who have not yet had sufficient practice to enable them to grapple effectively with the weather. Once again the number of members using the "rifle as issued" was greatly in excess of those using the "1914" rifle, but a marked change in this respect is expected from next month onwards when practice in earnest will commence for those events which comprise the Association's Annual "Bisley" Prize Meeting.

The leading scores made yesterday afternoon are as follows:—

JAPANESE PLANES RAIN DEATH ON CANTON

Over 100 Killed In Air Raid

Canton, Nov. 24. Four bombs, estimated to weigh 500 lbs each were dropped in crowded districts. No soldiers were anywhere near.—Reuter.

DOCTOR'S ESCAPE
Canton, Nov. 24. Dr. R. L. Lancaster, a British doctor on Shamen, and a friend, were motoring out to Honam when a bomb fell 50 yards in front of them. Neither were injured but they were compelled to turn back.—Reuter.

HEADING FOR RAILWAY
Canton, Nov. 24. At 11.45 a.m. eight Japanese planes flew over the western section of the city heading for the Canton-Hankow Railway. As far as can be ascertained no bombs were dropped, though it is reported that the invaders were active further up the line.—Reuter.

GIANT PLANES
Canton, Nov. 24. Five giant Japanese planes roared over Canton at 10.45 this morning. They were greeted by anti-aircraft fire, the shells of which burst particularly close to their objectives, and at least had the effect of breaking up the Japanese formation, although no hit appeared to be registered.

The cloudy sky favoured the invaders, who disappeared southward.

One Chinese source states that 17 Japanese planes were sighted over Chekwan earlier this morning, but this is unconfirmed.—Reuter.

Canton, Nov. 24 (11.30 a.m.). Four bombs were dropped by Japanese planes around Taisatou Station at the terminus of the Canton-Kowloon Railway, killing two and wounding two Chinese. A number of other bombs were dropped in the vicinity of Tungshan, one landing fairly close to the Italian Consulate, and shaking the building.

According to Chinese sources, eight Japanese planes participated, although Reuter's correspondent only saw five. But it is understood others were active in other districts. The same source states that one bomb fell near the 31st Municipal Primary School at Honam, and one of the bombs at Taisatou just missed the public sandbag shelter put up by the Government for the populace.

Casualties are not believed to be heavy.—Reuter.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT

Canton, Nov. 24 (1 p.m.). A graphic eye-witness account of the result of the bombing of Honam was given to Reuter by Mr. L. F. Newman, an employee of the Salt Gabelle who visited the scene a few minutes after the bombing, and who estimates that 100 people were killed.

Many Red Cross ambulances and lorries laden with coffins were rushed to the scene where consternation reigned. Mr. Newman saw many weeping relatives, and he highly praised the scores of young Chinese nurses endeavouring to cope with the scenes of indescribable horror.

Mr. Newman escorted an 80-year-old Chinese friend from his house which was damaged, to a place of safety.

FORMER ITALIAN SOLDIERS VISIT LONDON

London, Nov. 23. The delegation of Italian ex-servicemen now visiting London at the invitation of the British Legion were received at the War Office this afternoon by Mr. Hore-Bellish, who said that as Secretary of State for War it was a special privilege for him to pay tribute to the courage, tenacity and endurance of Italian soldiers during the years of the Great War. The War Secretary referred in particular to the distinguished record of the Bersagliers, in which Signor Carlo Delcroix, leader of the delegation, and Signor Rossi, chairman of the Italian National Organisation of ex-servicemen, both served, Signor Rossi receiving for valour a medal which Mr. Bellish observed was equivalent to the British Victoria Cross.

The Minister commented on the warm reception the British Legion delegation had met with in Rome last April, and said he thought the making and renewing of friendship between men who had experienced the heroic tragedies of the Great War, on whatever side they fought, must be of service to the cause of peace and goodwill.—British Wireless.

NEW METHOD TO HELP REFUGEES

Shan, Nov. 24. A novel way of assisting refugees from the war areas who have flocked to Shensi has been launched by Mr. Han Wei-hsi, a member of the provincial government.

He had pledged $80 from his earnings for the support and upkeep of 10 refugees each month for an indefinite period. He hopes that other well-to-do residents in the province will voluntarily follow his example which will undoubtedly relieve the government officials and philanthropists who are already over-taxed with the constant arrival of refugees from various parts of the country.—Central News.

ANGLO-FRENCH TALKS

Paris, Nov. 24. It is understood that M. Chauvins and M. Delbos will visit London at the end of the week at the British Government's invitation to discuss with Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Eden the situation arising from Lord Halifax's talks with Germany, notably the German claims which it is believed Herr Hitler expounded to Lord Halifax regarding the Spanish conflict and Italy's attitude towards the Sino-Japanese hostilities.—Reuter.

THE SHANGHAI SITUATION

London Favours Japanese Demands

London, Nov. 23. Opinion in London is not unduly alarmed at the situation in Shanghai. The Japanese demands to the Municipal authorities of the International Settlement are not regarded as high-handed because it is realised that the Japanese, now that they have gained possession of the Chinese city, are averse to seeing the Settlement made the centre of anti-Japanese activity.

It is pointed out in this connection that there are about 1,000,000 Chinese inhabitants in the Settlement, and it is 'now up to the Municipal authorities to find a method of complying, to a reasonable degree, with the Japanese demands, without forfeiting any of their long-established rights.

Should some question affecting the agreement between China and the foreign governments establish the foreign government arise, it would have to be referred to Europe, otherwise matters affecting local arrangements with the Japanese lie within the competence of the municipal authorities.—Reuter.

U.S. ATTITUDE
Washington, Nov. 23. The State Department has not yet taken up consideration of the Japanese demands regarding the International Settlement in Shanghai, but has left the matter to the American authorities on the spot.—Reuter.

COUNTRIES' AID FOR CHINA

No Arrangements To Be Published

No arrangements will be published regarding the countries which have assisted or propose to assist China by sending arms, said Mr. Anthony Eden in the House of Commons, replying to Mr. G. Manders, who asked if it would be quite proper for any state which was a member of the League to supply arms to China at present under the resolution of the League Assembly of October 6. Mr. Eden replied in the affirmative.—Reuter.

GENERAL FRANCO'S AGENT

London, Nov. 24. The Duke of Alba has been appointed the first Agent in London for the Franco Government in connection with the recent agreement made by Great Britain with the insurgent authorities for an exchange of agents.

The Duke has been General Franco's unofficial representative in London for some time.—Reuter.

BRITISH MINISTER

London, Nov. 23. Mr. J. H. Leche, who has been British Charge d'Affaires in the Government of Spain for some time, has been given the local rank of Minister Plenipotentiary. Mr. Leche will be moving from Valencia to the neighbourhood of Barcelona, where the Spanish Government now is, in the course of next week.—British Wireless.

REMOVAL OF CAPITAL

Lauded By "Ta Kung Po"

Hankow, Nov. 24. The removal of the seat of the National Government from Nanking to Chungking is editorially supported and commended by the influential Chinese journal, Ta Kung Pao.

The manifesto issued on Nov. 20 from Nanking announcing the removal, the newspaper declared, comes as a "time encouragement to the people and soldiers throughout the country."

The temporary removal of the Capital assures us that the government is determined to carry on the war to the end and will not bow to the Japanese invaders, the paper added. It then exhorted the people and soldiers to stand by the government and to do their share to enable China to achieve the final victory. The people are also reminded that the sacrifices made during the last three months have clearly shown the Chinese spirit of independence and has laid the foundation to national rejuvenation.

It continued: "However, our enemies are continuing to press farther inland. We must be prepared to carry on a much longer and bitter struggle; our troops must continue to fight harder and the people should be ready to die for their country."

WORLD-WIDE SYMPATHY

The government manifesto stated that China has won the sympathy from the other Powers of the world; this is supported by fact. The Foreign Office, in order to facilitate its work, has removed to Hankow where various foreign Embassies in Nanking have decided to go. We recall that when the National Government was set up in Nanking, the foreign diplomats were reluctant to move down from Peking. Their present action clearly shows that their sympathies are with China.

"We must also realize that the Government is prepared and confident of the outcome of the war. The people should one and all give their unwavering support to the Government."—Central News.

GERMAN CLAIMS

Lord Allen's Plan For Settlement

Lord Allen of Hurtwood, speaking at Eastbourne, said that Germany's claim to colonial possessions could not be solved by the handing round of colonies as though they were counters in a game of beggar-my-neighbour.

The present colonial arrangement came out of an all-round settlement at Versailles. Any new arrangement must be part of an all-round settlement.

"Germany now asks for colonies back," he continued. "It is not sufficient for us to reply that colonies have no economic value, if, having said that, we cling to our own."

"We should make it clear that we cannot approach this subject in isolation from all the other problems that confront Europe. We should offer to reconsider the colonial question in all its aspects, provided that Germany will agree to negotiate a new settlement guaranteed by membership of the

WANG OPTIMISTIC

Hankow, Nov. 24. Optimism over the possibility of international assistance to China in her resistance to Japan was expressed by Mr. Wang Ching-wei, Chairman of the Central Political Committee, in an interview with the Central News Agency upon his arrival here yesterday from Nanking aboard the gunboat Chung Shan on his way to Chungking.

Mr. Wang said that though the Nine-Power Conference had so far not brought about any fruitful results in its efforts at peace, China might not be disappointed in gaining some sort of help from the Powers and that even international economic sanctions might ultimately be applied against Japan.

Commenting on China's relations with Soviet Russia, Italy and Germany Mr. Wang remarked that in view of their close relationship in the Far East China and Soviet Russia should co-operate to check Japan's menace to peace.

Italy's participation in the German-Japanese Anti-Comintern Pact, Mr. Wang opined was in line with her established policy in Europe and would not affect Sino-Italian relations. He hoped that the present visit of Mr. Chen Kung-po, China's Extraordinary Envoy, would further cement the friendly relations between the two countries.

Germany and China, Mr. Wang pointed out, have close economic and commercial relations. Since the outbreak of Sino-Japanese hostilities, Germany's trade in China has been greatly affected. He expressed the hope that Germany's participation in the Italo-Germano-Japanese Anti-Comintern Pact would not affect the ever cordial Sino-German relations.—Central News.

JAPANESE MOTOR BOATS SUNK

Wush, Nov. 24. Over 200 Japanese motor boats were either killed or wounded yesterday when more than ten Japanese motor boats were sunk by Chinese patrol boats in Taihu Lake.

An unknown number of Japanese motor boats were sunk by Chinese patrol boats at Wukang south of Soochow and sailed in Taihu Lake toward Wush in an attempt to launch a flank attack on the Chinese troops there. They were met and fired upon by Chinese patrol boats in the lake. More than ten motor boats were sunk, resulting in over 200 casualties, whilst the other motor boats beat a fast retreat.—Central News.

CLUB'S NARROW VICTORY

RUGGER MATCH WITH NAVY

A Rugby football game between the Club "A" XV and a Naval side drawn from the Small Ships in harbour was played on the Club ground yesterday afternoon, the Club emerging the winners by a score of 5 to 3.

The play in general was very even, though somewhat ragged at times, and a number of good movements were spoiled by knock-ons and off-sides. After a scoreless first half, Morgan made a beautiful run, selling the dummy and passed to Adams, who carried the ball over the line, scoring the Navy's first try. This, however, was not converted.

The game resumed with Lammer carrying the ball within five yards of the Navy goal, but was well taken by Robinson, who throughout played a very good game. In a melee near the Navy touchline, Lammer managed to gather the ball and scored a fine try in the centre of the goal, which Oliphant converted.

The teams were:—
Club—M. W. McGrath, L. Lammer, D. B. Nelson, J. Redman, J. L. Bonnar, W. J. R. Henderson, R. G. L. Oliphant, J. S. Dunnett, Dr. E. W. Stout, C. F. Needham, Olsen, T. H. Pratt, A. W. Holden and J. G. Harvey.

FRENCH PLOT UNEARTHED

Paris, Nov. 23.

M. Marx Dormoy, Minister of Interior, at a press reception informed the public that the investigations into the "Cagouliers" affair had definitely established the fact that there existed in France a secret organization with the aim of overthrowing the monarchy and re-establishing the monarchy.

Recent thorough investigations, he Minister continued, had shown the existence of a thoroughly trained semi-military secret organization, which even had a general staff, maintaining a large number of branch offices, charged with special duties. The organization was sub-divided into regiments, battalions and companies and constituted a formidable army for waging civil war. The organization had planned to establish military dictatorship which was later to be replaced by a monarchy.

The documents confiscated by the police included detailed plans for the occupation of the Chamber, Senate and other various Ministries. A list of names and addresses of left wing politicians and journalists were found. The plan was apparently to arrest these

GERMAN SECRET AGENTS

Imprisoned By Soviet On Espionage Charge

Moscow, Nov. 23.

Two Germans have been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment of a charge of espionage by the Soviet authorities. They are allegedly agents of the Nazi Secret Police.

It is reported they entered Russia disguised as tourists with forged passports and were instructed to destroy oil tanks and railway property. — Reuter persons immediately after a successful coup d'etat.

The Minister then concluded by stating that, thanks to the watchfulness of the Government, these revolutionary plans were discovered in time and the attempted uprising nipped in the bud. The enquiry would be continued and the guilty persons would feel the full force of the law. The Government was now complete master of the situation, and any attempts to overthrow it could now be regarded as having failed.

WOLFRAM PRICE GOES UP

European Countries Demand Commodity

London, Nov. 23.

Following a recent depression in London, wolfram developed an improved tendency to-day. Buyers appeared for shipment and afloat at 62/6d. to 65/- compared with 60/- previously. The improvement is attributed to reports that consumers are short of supplies, while it is rumored that Germany, who sold between 400 and 500 tons of her "war chest" stocks during the summer boom, is now starting to cover, at the same time requiring delivery before the end of the year.

Inquiry from France and Sweden also helped to bring about a stronger tone while rumours were also current that Russia would be uncovered before the end of the year and may re-enter the market for further supplies.

BOUYANT EXCHANGE

In contrast to this morning's dismal opening, the London Stock Exchange finished the day on the crest of an energetic buying wave. This "voite face" sentiment was almost entirely due to the surprising, albeit welcome, action of Continental operators, who refrained from adding their share of nervous selling on the London market. The latter immediately took heart from this unhelped-for turn of events, and under the influence of increasing speculating support for certain issues, notably good minings, and oils, almost the whole Stock Exchange community "went to bed" in a happier frame of mind. — Reuter.

LOYAL KWANGTUNG

Brisk Sale Of Bonds

That the people of Kwangtung are wholeheartedly with the Nanking Government in its struggle against Japan, is revealed by the fact that the Kwangtung branch of the Liberty Bonds Sales Committee remitted more than $1,000,000 in one week to the head office of the Committee in Shanghai.

From Canton, principal city of the province, has come word of the intense patriotism of the people and of their prompt and patriotic response to the Liberty Bonds issue. Persons in all walks of life have been and are purchasing bonds.

Newsboys of Canton are among them. They have banded together and are making efforts to purchase at least one small bond every week.

FOREIGNERS INCLUDED

Foreigners, too, are buying bonds. Mr. Theopoulis Callas, a Greek resident, who has resided in China for 32 years, conducting two prosperous business establishments, has since sold one outright and invested the proceeds in Liberty Bonds.

"This is a time when all foreigners who make their home in China should rally to the assistance of the Chinese Government, and lend it their moral and financial support," Mr. Callas declared.

"I shudder to think of the future of foreigners in China should this vast country ever come under the rule of the Japanese. I, for one, would go back to my native country. China has been good to a vast number of foreigners who have accepted her hospitality, and amassed comfortable fortunes here. It is now the opportune moment for all foreigners to show their gratitude."

"Provided I can see my way to a decent living I am prepared to dispose of all of my property in order to be of assistance to the Central Government. Many of my foreign friends and acquaintances feel the same way," he stated conclusively.

NEW SOVIET COUNCIL

Moscow, Nov. 23.

An announcement issued here to-day states that the ultimate decision on all economic matters in the Soviet Union will in future rest exclusively with the Council for Economic Affairs at the Council of People's Commissars, which has just been formed.

The tasks of the new Council will be the examination and confirmation of all economic projects, including economic administration, fixing prices and wages and working conditions.

COAL MINES BILL

London, Nov. 23.

The House of Commons passed the second reading of the Coal Mines Royalties Bill to-day.

A Government spokesman explained that the measure was designed not only to help the coal industry in good times, but to give it some protection if "bad times" came.

The House by a vote of 301 to 139 defeated the Labour Party's motion of rejection made on the ground that the measure had not included unified control of the whole industry under public ownership. — Reuter.
